The Dedication of the Lateran Basilica

We commemorate today not the dedication of a building but the reality for which it stands - God's presence in the lives of his people gathered as a community. The most perfect meeting-point between God and man took place in Jesus Christ. We come to Church to deepen our share in that meeting.

The Dedication of the Lateran Basilica

Because this weekend falls during the dates of 8th and 9th November instead of celebrating Week 32 of Ordinary Time we move into a Feast that falls annually on November 9th. So something different emerges this year and we look to the Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica.

The Dedication of the Lateran Basilica isn't likely to mean much to you largely because most won't even know where the Lateran Basilica is located. The Lateran Basilica or The Church of St John on the Lateran is located in Rome and is 'Mother and Head of all the churches of the City and the World'. It is the cathedral church of the Bishop of Rome (Pope Francis), and is called 'St John' Lateran after the two monasteries once attached, dedicated to St John the Divine and St John the Baptist.

You will notice some background found in the weekend Missalette as we are told that the original basilica was built in the reign of Pope Miltiades (311 – 314) and according to a tradition dating from the 12th century its dedication took place on this day (9th November).

Here in Ballincollig we are taking stock of our own history as we celebrate the 150th Jubilee of St Mary's and St John's Church. Throughout the year we will continue to turn our attention to something of the roots of Christian worship in our area through, prayer, retreats, art, music, writings, parade, flower festival and much more.

All of us are baptised into Christ; all of us receive the word of life through the Scriptures; all of us belong to the body of Christ; the universal Church and the local Church and indeed the family that is the domestic Church. Our communion – constituted by faith, community, scripture and the sacraments – is part of a greater family, under the bishop of Rome, who "presides over the whole assembly in charity" (St Ignatius of Antioch).

This weekend I'm remembering a time when I wasn't particularly interested and was somewhat disconnected from the larger institutional Church in Rome.

The idealism of youth and beyond I really only saw the trappings of power and riches. But the famous Pastoral Visit of Pope John Paul II to Ireland touched many of us locally. In early 2006 I made my first visit and only visit to Rome with an open mind, heart, spirit. In some small way I connected with the universal Church and was pleasantly surprised to notice while everything pointed to that which is big and universal I also noted its roots in the history of the Roman Empire. What stood out for me was a walk along the Appian Way as I reflected on St Paul making that journey almost two years ago as he was summoned to Rome to appear before Caesar or his representative.

We might pray for Pope Francis and for all who shepherd the Church universally and locally. May the Holy Spirit of God pour forth in those aligning themselves to Christ a response of authentic service.

PRAYERS OF THE FAITHFUL

Priest

With hope in our hearts we pray for light and wisdom.

Reader

For the Church: that through an effective preaching of the Gospel it may provide a lamp of hope for a world darkened by despair.

Lord, Hear us,
Lord, graciously hear us.

For all political leaders: that they may be watchful and responsible, and so provide a lamp of peace for a world darkened by war.

Lord, Hear us,
Lord, graciously hear us.

For those who grieve the loss of a loved one: that they may know the comfort of God.

Lord, Hear us,
Lord, graciously hear us.

For those who have nothing to wait for, nothing to hope for.

Lord, Hear us,
Lord, graciously hear us.

For this Congregation: that through the practice of prayer and good works we may wait in joyful hope for the coming of our Saviour, Jesus Christ.

Lord, Hear us,
Lord, graciously hear us.

For a moment, we remember in silence our own particular needs.

Lord, Hear us,
Lord, graciously hear us.

Priest

God of mercy you continued to love even when we live foolishly and forget who we are and where we are going. Help us to grow in wisdom and love, as we travel towards the wedding feast of your Kingdom. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Thought for Today

Building our families is much like constructing a building in that you need a solid foundation in order to build a worthy structure. There are many things we might name that help build the foundation such as love, and essentials including food, clothing and shelter. Some quality time and holidays may help, too. But the main ingredient, indeed, the cornerstone, is Jesus. Not much else we offer our children will impact their lives as much as the religious foundation we provide. The most important time to remember this valuable lesson is when we feel least like living it ourselves--maybe on Sunday morning when we're too tired to go to mass, or when we get irritated with a neighbour or another driver. We want a solid foundation for our children and need to work continually on building up our family.

THE SUNDAY READINGS

First Reading: Ezekiel 47:1-2,8-9.12
 For the King of Israel, Solomon, the temple was a place of God's presence, a place where he would dwell. So it is today.

Second Reading: Cor. 3:9-11. 16-17
 The universal Church is a new temple in Christ. God's people are where God is dwelling.

Gospel: John 2:13-22
 It is not clear what precipitated Jesus' reaction at the temple. In what would appear to be a fit of anger, Jesus used a whip to drive out the animals, and overturned tables sending coins, people, and animals scurrying in all directions. The people took Jesus' words literally and because of their immature faith, they were looking for signs. That is why in this Gospel where Jesus says he will destroy the temple but raise it back up in three days, people were dumbfounded. The temple had been under construction for over forty years and was still not complete. It is no wonder when they heard that Jesus would raise it up in three days, that they could not comprehend his meaning. They lacked the faith to understand that Jesus referred to the raising of his own body in three days, a temple they did not recognise.

Life after Death

November is a month in which the Church reminds the Faithful of our dead. It calls on the praying Church on earth to offer prayer and sacrifice for those who have gone before us in the sign of Faith.

There is a danger today that people can believe that our departed relatives may not need our prayers, but this danger must be avoided. Death, for many, is a fearful event because it precedes the judgement. Jesus spoke very clearly and consistently about a final judgement. The judgement spoken of by Jesus is not to be understood as a once-and-for-all event in the future. God's judgement is already at work in the present, calling us to live lives in harmony with our nature as children of god.

If we see God's judgement as acting also in the present, death will lose its fearful significance. St. John does not use the term 'hell' but speaks of punishment in terms of darkness and exclusion from God. St. Paul does not use any fiery images but speaks of eternal destruction and banishment from the face of God.

Hell is the final loss of God's life and friendship. But already in life we can exclude ourselves from friendship from God. In life, however, there is hope of change. We can once again respond to God's love.

Jesus tells us that Heaven is the reward of the virtuous. It is the complete fulfilment; it is what we were created for. Judgement, Hell and Heaven are not events that occur after death; they already begin here when we answer yes or no to God's invitation to love Him
