Thirteenth Sunday In Ordinary Time

Today Jesus, the worker of dramatic miracles, shows that the cost of discipleship is high. A disciple of Jesus must abandon self, take up the cross and press on to life's goal. We are created to live. God is a God of life, of justice and of truth.

Self Determination

The gospel this weekend gives us an insight into the life of the sick and their families. The woman who came to Jesus was desperate. She suffered from an illness for twelve long years, she had been through various treatments all were fruitless. Many doctors had offered different treatments as a result she was penniless and still sick. It seems all possibilities of human healing were exhausted.

Then she heard Jesus was coming to town, she hoped and believed that if she could even touch this holy man she would be healed. People in those days knew the importance of touch, for a baby to be held and touched is as important as food. Her determination got her through the crowd as she hoped for a quick fix; telling herself if I can even touch his clothes it may be enough to be healed.

We often opt for the quick fix, quick dash into the church, light a candle and off again on our merry way. Similarly with confession, we reproduce the list of sins, hardly time for forgiveness not to mention reflecting on my life and I am off again.

The woman's faith was rewarded, her health was restored, she received the quick fix. However Jesus insisted on a personal face to face meeting, he was not thinking of himself but of the woman. Those years of sickness had shaken her faith in God, so as well as physical healing she needed spiritual healing. It was not just enough to touch him, she touched him with faith. Faith enabled this poor, frightened, sick, untouchable woman to recognise the power of Jesus. Jesus reassured her "Your faith has made you well," Faith in Jesus can transform our life. May the sick and troubled experience the presence of Jesus in their life.

THE SUNDAY READINGS

First Reading (Wisdom 1:13-15, 2.23-24)
 The book of Wisdom, written around 100 B.C., expresses a developed Old Testament that prepared for the fuller teachings of Christ. This reading says that God created all things good, and that death came because of the devil.

Second Reading (2 Corinthians 8:7.9.13-15)
 Paul says that the Corinthians have become rich because of Christ, and should help those who are more needy. Collections go back to the early days of the faith and express a truly Christian concern.

Gospel (Mark 5:21-43)
 Once again reading from Mark shows why this little Gospel is so precious. This is our nearest approach to an eye witness account of Jesus. Notice here the many details: the miracle within a miracle and the Lord's concern for secrecy.

The Face of Christ

Sometimes our hearts may be troubled and we may worry about our future, not only in this life but also the eternal salvation of our souls. Everyday affairs and material concerns seem to almost overcome us as we strive to stay afloat in the turbulent waters of our daily life.

The world may weigh heavily upon our shoulders as we search among a sea of crowded faces for a friendly countenance. We seek perhaps someone to talk to, to tell our troubles to, someone with whom we can share our problems, but sometimes we do not know where to turn. Our friends are too busy with their own lives, our relatives and neighbours have their own troubles, our husbands may be work-weary, our wives house tired. What do we do? Where do we go for consolation? To whom can we confide our sorrows?

The answer may appear simple to one who knows. We turn to our eternal Father who has provided us with the necessary knowledge and wisdom to attain that serenity and peace of the soul that is ours for the asking, the spirituality that we can see (if we look) in the face of our fellow man, in the old, wrinkled face of a neighbour or stranger, or a child's face. Indeed, if we take the time to look closely, we will see the face of Christ. We will remember His promise of eternal life and the great love that he revealed to us by sending his only Son to die for our sake. He raised Him from the dead so that we should know and trust in Him who has provided an eternity in heaven. We should heed what Jesus said to a (doubting) Philip: "Have I been with you all this time....and you still do not know me? (John 14:1-12)

Ballincollig Tidy Towns

Golden Jubilee

Ballincollig has been involved in the National Tidy Towns initiative since 1965. There have been dramatic changes to Ballincollig over that period but the core community values have not changed. Ballincollig is indebted to all those that strive to make our area a great place to live.

It is the people that ultimately decide the value of their own place and for the Tidy Towns Volunteers the added value they have contributed over 50 years shows strong in the Town we have today.

Please help to Make The Difference!

As we cannot get to all the works we have planned it means we are very limited in being able to give manual assistance in estates. However the majority of properties are good and again we ask that if everybody could do a little clean up on their own front of house including the kerbs and base of walls then that would make a big difference. There is not a lot of litter around but if everyone picked just one piece while out walking it would keep the streets and roads much cleaner.

SEMINAR on POPE FRANCIS' ENCYCLICAL

LAUDATO SI with Fr. Donal Dorr

CORK: Wednesday 16th September 2015 (10.00 am – 4.00 pm)

SMA Community Centre Wilton

Organised by the SHEP CARING FOR THE EARTH INITIATIVE a collaboration of The Cork Social and Health Education Project & Páirc a' Tobair Mercy Earth Community

Pope Francis' encyclical on Climate Justice and the Earth is a major wake-up call to Christians and to people of other religions or no religion. But will it make any real difference to our world? Will it help to galvanize us as individuals, and the politicians we elect, to take effective action to meet the huge ecological problems which threaten our whole way of life, and which are already severely affecting the poorest people in poor countries? The impact of the encyclical will depend on how well we get to know it and how we respond to its call.

The seminar will offer an opportunity to reflect on the encyclical's significance and message. It will be conducted by Donal Dorr DD, author of many books on aspects of justice and spirituality, in particular Option for the Poor and for the Earth: Catholic Social Teaching.

The Seminar will be free. Prior registration essential (Phone or E-mail or Post)

Address: The Social and Health Education Project, Village Chambers, Station Road, Ballincollig, Co. Cork.

A Prayer for those who suffer from Depression

Dear Jesus, I walk in the valley of darkness for I suffer from depression. I feel unloved, rejected, useless to myself and useless to others. I feel lost in a world I no longer understand. At times, I want to sleep and never wake up again. Lord, I believe that your love is a transforming love. Jesus, Son of David have pity on me.

Out of the depths, I cry to you. Lord, even though I feel nothing, I still praise you for the wonder of my being. You have formed me in my mother's womb and watched over me to this moment. I am precious in your eyes and you love me. On the Cross, you shed your blood for me. You have carved me on the palm of your hand. For all this I give you thanks and praise. May your precious blood give new life to me and to all those who suffer as I do. Take each one of us and hug us to your sacred and loving heart. Through your glorious wounds may we be healed.

Dear Jesus, when you fed the crowd in the desert, you wished to gather up the fragments lest anything be lost. As I wander through a desert and darkness of my own, I ask you to gather up the fragments of this shattered being, lest anything be lost. Through the prophet, Joel, you promise to restore the years that the locusts have eaten. I ask you, lay your hands gently on my weary head and restore me. Let your face shine upon me and give me back the peace, the joy that has been lost.
